RAPS: Rapid Alcohol Problems Screen

Brief screening for alcohol dependence and harmful drinking

“A few questions can help the doctor or nurse determine who may have a drinking problem.”

✓ The RAPS is a brief instrument.
✓ There is no weighting, adding or scoring of responses.
✓ A positive response on any item qualifies as being positive on the RAPS.
✓ The first question identifies over 80% of those meeting the criteria for alcohol dependence.

What is RAPS?

The Rapid Alcohol Problems Screen (RAPS) is a five-item instrument derived from other screens designed to maximize sensitivity while maintaining good specificity. The RAPS4, which excludes a question, was found to perform just as well as RAPS yet was shorter and easier to implement.

When two quantity-frequency (QF) questions (drinking five or more drinks on an occasion and drinking as often as once a month) were added to the RAPS4, the RAPS4-QF performed significantly better for alcohol abuse and appeared to be most sensitive for alcohol abuse among both males and females reporting emergency-room (ER) use.

“Easy clinicians need reliable and short screening tests.”
